

Government Outline

1. Be able to present knowledge on the responsibilities of a citizen. (Citizenship, politics, and governments, and understand the rights and responsibilities of citizens and how these are all part of local, state, and national government.)
2. Be able to present knowledge on the United States Constitution and how it protects rights and provides the structure and functions of various levels of government.
3. Be able to present knowledge on how the United States interacts with other nations and the government's role in world affairs.
4. The learner must use primary and secondary sources on at least one project.
5. Learner must present at least one topic in a formal speech setting.